SC = Single Crochet
CH = Chain
SS = Slip Stitch
R = Row

Scalloped Boot Cuff Pattern for Teens/Women

With I hook, CH 11.

R1 - SC in the second CH from hook and in each stitch across (total of 9 stitches). CH 1 and turn.

R2 thru R28 - SC in each stitch across, working in back loops only. CH 1 and turn.

R29 - SC in each stitch across, working in back loops only.

Joining the cuff: Place the two edges together to form a circle. SC across the opening to join the two sides.

Now work the top edge of the boot cuff. Beginning new rows.

R1 - CH 1 and SC in each stitch around the cuff. When you reach the end of the row, join with a SS.

R2 - CH 2 and DC in the next stitch. DC in each stitch around the cuff. When you reach the end of the row, join with a SS.

R3 - Repeat R2

R4 - Repeat R2

R5 - Repeat R2. This gives you four rows of DC stitches.

R6 - (Making the scalloped edge.) DC in the second CH from hook 5 times. Skip one stitch and SC in the next stitch. Skip one stitch and five DCs in the next stitch. Skip one stitch and SC in the next stitch. *Repeat this pattern until you reach the end of the row. Join the row to the previous row of stitches (see picture).

Tie off and weave in your loose ends with a tapestry needle.

That's it! You are finished!

About The Author, Michele

I am a busy mother and grandmother. By day, I work in social services. At all other times, I am busy raising my two grandchildren and running my online stores. I have an online store and Etsy shop in which I sell my finished products. I also now sell patterns in the Amazon Kindle store, in my personal store, on Etsy and on Craftsy.

I started crocheting around the age of seven and have loved it ever since. Many days it is what keeps me sane! I love to create new items that are both fun and functional. My family is huge and there are many babies that keep me inspired.

I decided to start writing patterns recently. This is mostly in hopes of someone in my family learning to crochet and picking up the hobby. I won't be around forever! Running my shops keeps me very busy. There is so much involved from actually making the items, marketing the items and then managing the business and shipping details. But I enjoy it all.

You can follow my blog, Poochie Baby, to keep up with new items and new patterns coming up for sale. You can also follow me on Facebook. Don't forget to click Like so you can get new information on your news feed.
